Fresh Coat Painters opens

Quentin Hatfield recently opened Fresh Coat Painters of Middle Tennessee to service Rutherford County residents who want a fresh look for their homes.

Hatfield explained that once the housing market slowed, he began to see an increase in demand for home improvement services.

Homeowners are looking to revamp their current home rather than purchase a new one, he said. And for those looking to sell their homes, a fresh coat of interior paint is very appealing.

From single rooms to an entire house, there's no project too large or too small for Fresh Coat Painters of Middle Tennessee, which employs painters with no less than 10 years experience.

"We will come out to the home and give them a firm quote in writing," Hatfield said. "We like to look at the room and find out what the customer really wants ... we can do all the specialty finishes."

Hatfield added that while exterior painting isn't offered, he could work with other contractors to complete such a request.
